OUT IN THE OPEN PLAN

Voi's integrated design unites the entire workplace. The same kit of parts and pieces that can be used to form Voi desks in private or semi-private settings also provides a variety of options for open plan configurations—including benching and touchdown stations. Voi also can be combined with HON's Abound® frame and tile system or Initiate® panels to deliver privacy and power to open plan workstations.

BENCHING

Benching is a linear, freestanding open plan application designed to encourage collaboration.

WIRE MANAGEMENT

Wire troughs provide a convenient wire management solution that's compatible with Voi in all workplace applications.

TOUCHDOWN

A simple Voi configuration supports visitors, customers, and employees who do not have an assigned desk but may need a short-term home base.

POWER AND DATA

Whether you need basic wire management for one desk or a hardwire solution to accommodate several stations, Voi puts power and data access right where it's needed.

A POWERED SOLUTION

Combining Voi with Abound or Initiate workstations provides simple power and data options for open plan layouts. Power and data can be accessed at the panel base as well as the beltline. Since the panels manage the power and data, reconfiguring Voi components is a breeze.
